The theft of a watch or a suit of clothes is of such frequent occurrence in this city, and comparatively of such slight importance, that the people fail to become interested, except those who are patronized by these asnoying marauders. The robbery of diamonds in the jewelry house of Mr. J. W. Webb, which was reported in THE GAZETTE some days since, gave the peo-

Mr. Apperson had nothing to say to a newspaper man. "There's my safe," said he; "I've lost $1500 and you know the rest as well as I do." THE GAZETTE man looked in vain for a safe, but the remains of one covered with the dust of demolished brickbats and powder were disclosed, while two well drilled holes through what had been the door, too pisinly indicated the ingenuity and effect-

Many of the small blazes have been traced to carelessness, but many more have equal proofs of incendiary origin, and some people are inclined to believe that the anarchists are trying to burn the city. The police, however, place no reliance in this, as there are but few anarchists in the city. Captain Evans 80 per cent. of the fires were of incendiary origin. The chief of the fire department thought the blazes came from tramps and small boys and were disconnected. The only important blaze was in the four-story brick building of C. H. All the rest will deftly amount to about $5000. Quite a number of alarms have been answered to-day, but the fires were extinguished quickly.
